New York Times best-selling author J. A. Jance was born in South Dakota, brought up in Bisbee, Arizona, and now lives with her husband in Seattle, Washington, and Tucson, Arizona. Her recent work Partner in Crime teams the two protagonists of her popular J. P. Beaumont and Joanna Brady mystery series as they work to solve the murder of an up-and-coming African-American artist in Cochise County, Arizona. In addition to her prominent career as a writer, Jance also worked as an educator at Pueblo High School and as a librarian for the Indian Oasis School District on the Tohono O'odham reservation west of Tucson. She is a Distinguished Alumna of the master's program in Information Resources and Library Science at the University of Arizona, and received an Honorary Doctorate of Humane Letters from UA in December 2000.

All proceeds from this benefit dinner and talk, accompanied by a silent auction, will go to support the Scholarship Fund of the School of Information Resources and Library Science at the University of Arizona. Please make check payable to the U of A Foundations/SIRLS at 1515 E. First Street, Tucson, AZ 85719
