Prospectus instructions

(1) A prospectus of your final paper is due April 7 by the beginning of class.

(2) Substantive restrictions:
   a. Your prospectus should describe what your paper will be about very clearly.
   b. Make sure to say what your hypothesis is, e.g. “My hypothesis is…”.
   c. Make sure to say where you will get your data, i.e. what language, what games, what phenomena, etc.
   d. Do not plagiarize; your hypothesis, analysis, and data must be your own.

(3) Formal restrictions:
   a. It must be typed double-spaced in a reasonable-sized font.
   b. It cannot exceed one page.
   c. It really is due at the beginning of class on April 7.